

MY SAFETY PLAN

A safety plan can help keep you safe, if you are feeling overwhelmed and having thoughts of ending your life. Making a plan like this will help you to understand yourself better, keeping you safer. It's important to share this plan with your parents or guardians and people close to you, so they can support you. If your needs or triggers change, revise your safety plan with your counsellor or therapist. If you don't have one, call your local Youth Crisis Line for help.

If you're still having trouble keeping yourself safe, you can always come back. Some youth like to get creative with their safety plans. Use art, music, scrapbooking or writing-whatever helps you to express yourself!

My triggers

What are some things that set me off?

How can I manage my triggers?

My warning signs

What are my warning signs that tell me I'm starting to get overwhelmed? (for example, withdrawing from others or sleeping more)

Thoughts
(example: thinking negative dark thoughts, or about ways to harm yourself)

Emotions
(example: starting to feel hopeless guilty or angry)

Body sensations
(example: a racing heart, feeling I'm suffocating)

Behaviours
(example: pacing, spending lots of time sleeping)

If parents and caregivers notice any of my warning signs, they can help by:

Making the environment safe

What are some of the things I can do to make my environment safe? (eg. giving my parents any sharp objects I might have access to)

My coping strategies

What are some helpful things that will take my mind off the problem? (eg. going for a walk, calling a close friend to just vent, watching a movie, sleeping)

Reasons for living

Who are the people or animals I live for? (eg. mother, father, brother, sister, friends, relatives or pets)

What are other things I have to live for? Sometimes, when people are feeling sad, they have a hard time seeing the reasons for living. If this is the case for you right now, what are some reasons that others might point out for you? (eg. remembering that things will get better one day, future goals like school, career, travel or family goals)

My support network

Who are main people that I can turn to for support if I am overwhelmed? (people to whom I can say, "Hey, I'm not feeling good right now, I really need someone to talk to. I don't need advice, I just need you to listen. Can we talk?")

Someone to spend time with to take my mind off things:

Someone who can help with practical things (ex. taking me to appointments):

Someone who is a good listener:
